KEYMACRO is the faster and more efficient alternative for MACro for Windows.... Key is a Windows Explorer-like file manager with powerful searching abilities. Key provides a convenient, yet powerful method of displaying the contents of any folder. The software searches not only files but also directories, sub-directories, email messages, etc. If a file is found, then Key displays it in a dialog box with thumbnail, filename, last modification, size, time of creation, last accessed, etc. As a result, you can get a complete picture of the contents of your folders in a couple of seconds. Key also displays file content directly in the Explorer context menu. If a file has the same name as another, then a right-click on the file will open the dialog with the list of all the existing files, where you can select the new one. In addition to all this, Key supports plugins, which make it a fully featured file manager. The plugins are loaded dynamically from the registry or a special directory; they modify the standard behavior of Key. You may add a number of plugins to Key and activate them according to the folder you are in.

For example, you may add a plugin which allows opening a folder in the application you are currently using. Or, you may enable the plugin for all the files and folders in a specific directory. Key's powerful searching abilities are activated by pressing the Enter key. Key allows you to search for files in a folder or in the current folder or in all the sub-folders of a folder. You may specify the exact type of search you want to perform: match all, exact filename, complete filename, only the first part of the filename, one or more characters in the filename, etc. Key supports a wide range of options. The following list explains them in detail: - Unicode support. To change the default behavior of the program in relation to files with special characters, click on the button with the wrench in the bottom-right corner. Now the corresponding options will be shown in the upper-left window. The default behavior is to view such files with all the special characters in place. By selecting Unicode-compatible, you can open files with any type of special characters. The file is saved as it is, but there is a small delay when opening it. - Temporary files support. Click on the button with the wrench in the bottom-right corner. Now the corresponding options will be shown in the upper-left window. The default behavior is 77a5ca646e
