Build your Ultimate Team from over 600 players licensed by FIFA and make your debut in the UEFA Champions League, UEFA Europa League and many more competitions around the world. I saw today that if you get to the 4th cup game of the FUT Champion's League (UEFA), you get to pick a player. Unless you pick "Sidney" in the first 3 cup games, then you have to pick a "Schalke" player. You can't really select any SBC player for this team, I would need to have 2 Fifa Points for each, and I only have 1-2 Fifa points from other games. I hope you understand my dilemma about the UEFA Champions League. Is there any way to make the Sidnei pick right? In fact I even searched and couldnt find a player I could make for all 3 cup games. gamefaqs.com has a method of picking a different player each week, and this way you can pick one of the players that has a high chance of being selected. I've recently switched to FIFA from Pro Evolution Soccer, and my PES skills are quite minimal, so I decided to try out this method to play Champions League with Sidney. What do you think?
