The pixels in the area you select will be copied and pasted to the same layer. The pixels you have selected and pasted are shown with white. (See image above.) 3. Click and drag the layer to a different area of the image. Photoshop fills the area you have selected with the pixels from the layer. A good way to improve the appearance of your images is to delete the unwanted and unneeded elements, including all the wispy hair and a few stray teeth here and there. To delete an unwanted element on a layer, select the layer, and then go to the toolbar and click on Layer>Remove Layer; it will be deleted from the layer. A common tool to clean up the unwanted element or background is the Magic Eraser. You can erase the color you want to remove, but it may affect the other areas of the image. To remove color, select the Magic Eraser tool and select the color you want to erase. Click on the layer thumbnail and when the color box is highlighted, click in the area you want to erase. (See below.) 4. Save the image. You will now have a new layer for the background of the image.

Accordingly, improved compositions are desired. An Ethiopian man who beheaded a man for "walking around naked" has reportedly been arrested.
